DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

To have a general inventive concept under PCT rule 13.1, the inventions need to be linked by a special technical feature. The special technical feature recited in claim 26 is a kit comprising a capture reagent specific for a MAL2 polypeptide. In view of this de Marco, et al. (Journal of Cell Biology, 2002, as cited on the IDS) in view of Kennedy (US PG PUB 2001/0016651, published August 23, 2001) reads on the claim. De Marco, et al. teach a monoclonal antibody that binds to MAL2 (page 43 1st column). De Marco, et al. do not teach the antibody in a kit. This deficiency is made up for in the teachings of Kennedy. Kennedy teaches that reagents such as antibodies can be supplied in a kit for detecting the presence of an expression product in a biological sample. Kennedy also teaches the kit can also contain buffers and instructions (page 6 paragraph 76). It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the antibody of de Marco, et al. in a kit as taught by Kennedy for diagnostic use. Therefore the technical feature recited in claim 26 is not special. Accordingly the groups are not so linked as to form a single general concept under rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Art Unit: 1643

Group I, claim(s) 7-9 and 12, drawn to a method for the treatment and/or prophylaxis of carcinoma by administering an agent which interacts with or modulates the expression or activity of a MAL2 polypeptide.

Group II, claim(s) 10 and 11, drawn to a method for the treatment and/or prophylaxis of carcinoma by administering a MAL2 polypeptide.

Group III, claim(s) 13, 14, 24, and 25, drawn to a method of screening for anti-carcinoma agents that interact with a MAL2 polypeptide.

Group IV, claim(s) 15-17, drawn to a method of screening for anti-carcinoma agents that modulate expression or activity of a MAL2 polypeptide.

Group V, claim(s) 18, drawn to an agent.

Group VI, claim(s) 19-23, drawn to a method of diagnosing carcinoma by detecting the expression of a MAL2 polypeptide.

Group VII, claim(s) 26, drawn to a kit comprising a capture reagent specific for a MAL2 polypeptide.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: as set forth above in view of the teachings of de Marco and Kennedy the groups are not so linked as to form a single general concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because the technical feature of claim 26 is not special.

Groups VII, I and VI are related by product and method of using. Their shared technical feature is an agent that interacts with MAL2 polypeptide, but de Marco, et al. teach an antibody that specifically binds to a MAL2 polypeptide. Group II requires a MAL2 polypeptide, which is not required for Groups I, or III-VII. Groups III and VI require screening for an agent which is not required for Groups I, II, or V-VII. Group VI requires diagnosing carcinoma which is not required for Groups I-V, VI, or VII.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
